DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 5-15 and 19-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kurihara et al. (U. S. Patent 5,053,970).

Regarding claims 5 and 10, Kurihara discloses a method for optimizing the maintenance of assets (figure 8), defining a maintenance schedule along with work (production) schedule, Kurihara does not positively disclose of having a maintenance trigger indicative, but does disclose of having maintenance schedule period (figure 4). The schedule period in very broad meaning can be a maintenance trigger indicative.

Regarding claims 6-9 and 11-15, Kurihara discloses, use of a computer to generate a work schedule method and thus optimizing the maintenance of assets and production.

Regarding claims 19-22, already modified method for optimizing the maintenance of assets and production can be used by a computer system (figure 3) of Kurihara.

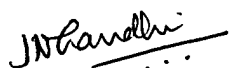

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Eryurek et al. and Fargher et al. disclose related art.
